Reflection for Second Sunday of Easter: Year B
Second Sunday of Easter (Sunday of Divine Mercy) – April 7, 2024

Readings: Acts 4:32–35 • Psalm 118:2–4, 13–15, 22–24 • 1 John 5:1–6 • John 20:19–31 bible.usccb.org/bible/readings/040724.cfm

What does it mean to “bear witness” to something? If we witness a crime, we can report that to the police, and they will take a witness statement to record what we’ve seen or heard. If we witness an event, we might be called upon to give an interview for a news story about our experiences.

In a spiritual sense, this concept of bearing witness to something means that we are not only called to believe in what the Lord says and does and teaches; as his followers, we must also bear witness to those truths and testify, share, and make visible those encounters. In other words, bearing witness to something is more than simply knowing or understanding; it’s about an outward expression to share what we’ve experienced.

In this weekend following the Resurrection of the Lord, we see the effects of how others have shared their witness of the events of Holy Week and the Resurrection of Jesus.

Our Gospel today comes from John 20. The chapter begins with the encounter of Mary of Magdala seeing the stone removed from the empty tomb. Shortly after, Jesus appears to Mary and asks why she is weeping. She soon recognizes Jesus and follows his instruction to share her witness, and she later announces to the disciples “I have seen the Lord,” bearing witness to what she experienced. Then we come to today’s passage, another encounter of the risen Christ, this time Jesus appearing to the disciples through the locked doors.

Thomas, of course known as the one who doubts, needs more proof before he can believe and share his own witness. Jesus invites Thomas to feel the wounds in his side, feel the wounds in his hands, and Thomas’ unbelief subsides into a statement of undeniable belief: “My Lord and my God,” and now he is added to the list of those who can witness to the resurrection of Christ.

As disciples of Christ, as ones who have recently witnessed the institution of the Eucharist at the Last Supper, the crucifixion of the Lord as he died to offer us redemption, and his triumphant resurrection from the dead, we are constantly called to bear that witness to all we meet. Bearing witness to the resurrection requires us to open the doors of our hearts and allow the light of Christ to infiltrate our lives. It means embracing the reality of His victory over sin and death and allowing this truth to permeate every aspect of our being. It means living with a profound sense of hope, even in the midst of trials and tribulations, knowing that Christ has conquered all.

Our first reading today also includes passages about the apostles bearing witness to the resurrection of the Lord: “With great power the apostles bore witness to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus, and great favor was accorded them all.” Bearing witness to the resurrection, although difficult at times given our current culture, should be part and parcel to the post-Easter routine as we mimic the apostles’ actions to bear witness with great power.

In parishes throughout the world, we have people this weekend who are receiving the Body and Blood of Christ for the second time, the first being last weekend during the great Easter Vigil. As our communities have prayed for them, supported them, encouraged them, these new members of the Catholic Church are indeed some of the greatest witnesses we have to the working of the Holy Spirit in their own lives. What better way to witness to the love of Jesus than to learn about him through Scripture and the teachings of the Church over these past months and finally encounter Him in these powerful sacraments? We know converts to the faith are some of the most powerful witnesses in our parish communities.

Our second reading teaches us how to be a witness to Christ. To love God means to keep his commandments, commandments that we know are not burdensome; rather, they lead us to love God and love our neighbor. Simply living the commandments is a powerful witness in itself. So many times people ask “what can I do to bring my family members back to the faith” or “what can I say that will make someone come to church?” Well, maybe it’s not so much about what we do or say, although our actions and words are very important; maybe it’s about how we live. Our way of life, whether public or private, is an indication of how we bear witness to God’s loving commandments at work in our own lives.

We are at the beginning of this Easter season, may we be emboldened by the example of the disciples and their unwavering faith in the resurrection. Without their witness to the faith and courage to evangelize, our own lives may have looked very different. May we open our hearts to encounter the risen Christ in our midst and allow His transformative love to work within us. And may we, in turn, bear witness to His resurrection to all we encounter with courage, conviction, and joy, so that all may come to know the true power and glory of our risen Lord Jesus Christ.

Saint of the week

St. Andrew of Crete was born in Damascus and was mute until he received his First Communion at age 7. He went on to be an influential archbishop and hymnist in Crete. His most renowned work, the Great Canon, is chanted during Lent in Eastern Orthodox churches.

Prayer for the 2nd Sunday of Easter

Dear Jesus,
As you greeted your disciples after you rose, fill us, too, with your peace.
As you breathed your spirit on them, breathe on us, too.
As your presence was known to Thomas, make it known to us, too.
Help us to live in your peace, power, and presence.
Amen.

(PRACTICING) CATHOLIC

Written in the Wounds

For all the condemnation Thomas the Doubter has received in 2000 years of homilies, I think there's something to admire in him.

Thomas is not unique. We all waver at some point, overcome by hesitation, distracted by the clamor of the world which seeks at every turn to shout above the whisper of the divine.

Thomas knows what he saw on Good Friday: his friend nailed to a cross, a sword driven through his body. He saw the blood and the water. He saw these things with his own eyes, eyes given to him by God, eyes which have never failed him before. And God doesn't ask us to suspend reality to believe in Him. He only asks us to be discerning about how that reality is interpreted in our hearts.

Thomas knows the man before him is either a fraud, preying on the hopes and anxieties of the traumatized disciples, or he is the Christ, the Savior of the world, accomplisher of impossible things. But where to look, to tell the difference?

Satan once appeared to the great mystic saint, Teresa of Avila, disguised as Jesus. She knew instantly that he was a fraud. Enraged, he demanded to know where his deception had failed. "You have no wounds," she told him simply.

Could we have accepted a savior who did not bleed? I don't think we could, because sooner or later, we would all stand before him and say, "Here is where the world hurt me. Here, and here, and here. What about you?" Christ can point to his hands, his feet, his side. "Here, and here, and here," he can say. "And I overcame them all."

It's the wounds, you see. The truth is in the wounds.

*Thomas answered and said to him,
"My Lord and my God!" — John 20:28*

Why do we do that? Catholic Life Explained

Question:

After a civil divorce, is a Catholic obligated to pursue an annulment?

Answer:

Many Catholics are not exactly sure what an annulment does. An annulment does not deny that a marriage took place, nor does it deny that there once was love. It does not mean that people say anything untrue, such as they never loved each other or that everything in their marriage was wrong. An annulment does not negate children, nor make them illegitimate. An annulment addresses the spiritual aspect of marriage. In effect, an annulment says that at the time of the wedding, there was either something present or something absent that prevented the sacrament from taking place. It is a spiritual determination that, if granted in the affirmative, allows a person to marry in the Church.

Annulments have no legal standing and are unable to be used in a civil court. Therefore, a Catholic has no moral obligation to pursue an annulment. However, when the tragedy of divorce occurs, and there is no hope for reconciliation, annulments may help bring some spiritual closure to a person's life. Some people have found the process to be healing and others have found it to be difficult. Speak to your priest or a member of the Diocesan Tribunal staff to decide what is best for you.

PSALMS: THE SCHOOL OF PRAYER

The Holy Spirit inspired them, Israel sang them. Christ himself prayed them, as did our Blessed Mother. At the heart of the Bible are the Psalms, prayers from God that help us to pray. In PSALMS: THE SCHOOL OF PRAYER, we discover how these sacred hymns become our heartfelt response to God's loving and wondrous deeds for us.

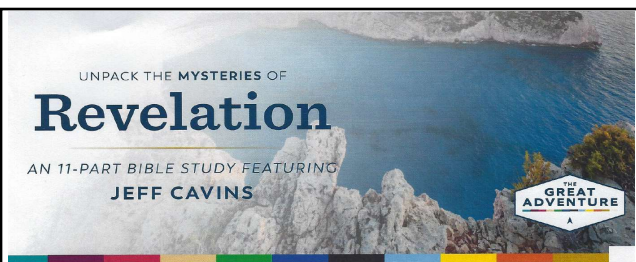

In this 11 week course we will show you how to establish a deeply personal dialogue with God, through the Psalms. Learn how to meditate fruitfully on the captivating words of the Psalms using lectio divina and study the many ways the Psalms foretell the life and mission of Jesus.

Come join us on Tuesday Mornings, twice a month with video presentations from Jeff Calvin's, Tim Gray, and Sarah Christmyer along with exciting conversations to explore ways into a personal encounter with God.

Classes are only one and half hour long and will begin in October, the first Tuesday, October 3 at 10 A.M. in the Parish Center. Plus, please go to ascensionpress.com to order your workbook (Psalms, the School of Prayer)

If interested, please contact Grace McNair at grace.mcnair@mail.com to sign up.

Here's to praying the words that Jesus prayed! See you there.

Prayers for Ernesto Balderrama, Jr

We, the Balderrama family, (Ernesto, Sonia and children), would like to ask for your prayers for our son, Ernesto Balderrama, Jr...aka - Junior, 17 yrs. old. He has grown up in St. Mary. He received all his Sacraments of Initiation here. He was an altar server since 2015. He was a member of the CERS group since 2021 and more recently, was helping his sister, Mariela, with the Wednesday evening Youth Bible study group. He graduated from Lee Williams HS in May 2023 and has decided to dedicate some time to strengthen and learn more about his faith. He left on August 4, 2023, to join Christ of the Desert House of Formation, in Palmdale, CA. He will be on his formation journey for nine months, with other young adults, all of whom have chosen to live by the virtues of obedience, poverty, and chastity.

After the formation period, he will discern if he would like to make his promise to become a Missionary Servant of the Word for one year, serving in whatever mission he is sent to here in the United States. We ask for prayers from our St. Mary community to help Junior stay strong and not feel lonely, as this is the first time he will be away from his family and community for so long. Prayers to help him stay focused during this formation period and guard against all temptation, not only for him, but for all the young people who are on the same journey as him, sacrificing a part of their young lives to follow Jesus. They have chosen to leave the many temptations of the secular world and follow Jesus out into the desert to pray and meditate on what God is calling them to do. Pray and make sacrifices as well for more teenagers and young adults to open their hearts and hear and answer God's calling. We are responsible for faith formation of the youth of our Church. Let us not abandon them in their time of spiritual needs. There is a spiritual warfare going on now and let us not lose our children to it.

Thank you so much and may God bless you all and guard you from all evil.
