Reflection for Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time: Year A
Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time
 Fr. Brent Bowen

Jesus gives us the interpretive key to this long passage in verse 17 when he says, “Do not think that I have come to abolish the law or the prophets. I have come not to abolish but to fulfill.” Jesus’ original hearers, an audience primarily made up of Jewish men and women, would have recognized that he is making a messianic claim: He is the one whom God promised to send. In His very person, Jesus is bringing to fulfillment the Kingdom of God. For example, in Deuteronomy 18:15, Moses says, “A prophet like me will the Lord, your God, raise up for you from among your own kindred; that is the one to whom you shall listen.” Likewise we see Jesus as the fulfillment of the prophecy made in Isaiah 11:1, “A shoot shall sprout from the stump of Jesse,” King David’s father, “and from his roots a bud shall blossom.”

Jesus is trying to tell us how we are to interpret his coming: not to abolish everything that God had done up to that point in the history of salvation, but rather to fulfill it. In the Old Testament, God calls and chooses His people, he establishes a covenant with them, and only then does he give them the precepts of the law. Or, put another way, God first establishes a relationship with his people, and then he teaches them how to live in that relationship. The law teaches them how to conduct themselves before God and among one another.

In a similar manner, Jesus first calls his disciples to himself; he establishes a relationship with them. Then, here in the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus begins to teach them. At this point in Jewish history, many saw the law of Moses as an end in itself. Think for example, of the Pharisees, who prided themselves on observing every detail of the law. Jesus, on the other hand, teaches that while the observance of the law is good (because it was given by God), its observance is meant to always lead us back to love: both love of God and love of neighbor. In other words, by observing the law externally, we interiorize what it is trying to accomplish.

Once we understand this, we can read Jesus’ teachings with fresh eyes. When he says, “You have heard it was said” followed by “but I say to you . . .” we see Jesus pointing us to the ultimate end of the law. For example, he calls us not only to observe the commandment not to kill our brothers and sisters, but to do something deeper: to avoid unjust anger with our fellows. Likewise, we are not only to observe the commandment to not commit adultery, but to avoid the lustful gaze that leads us to see others as less than who they truly are: beloved daughters and sons of God.

Truly Jesus is calling his disciples to something greater than a mere cursory observance of rules. He is inviting us to reflect upon how our behavior impacts our relationships, both with God and with others. Jesus is calling us to do what St. Paul invites the early Christians to do throughout his letters: to “put on the mind of Christ,” allowing our relationship with Jesus to mold and shape our hearts and our wills and make us more like himself.

When we place Christ at the center of everything in our lives, we begin to realize that following his teachings, even the difficult ones, is not so much about observing rules. Instead, we begin to desire the same things that Christ does because he is our close friend, and we want what he wants. The motivation behind living the Christian life becomes not so much an obligation as a daily observance of living in a way that glorifies God in everything we do.

Discovering the Amazing Riches of the Catholic Faith

What is the Catholic Church all about? What does it mean to be Catholic? What do Catholics actually believe? The Catholic Church is extraordinary. Founded by Christ himself, the Catholic Church is where we encounter God in his Word, his sacraments, and his saints. The Church faithfully proclaims the fullness of faith, leaving no truth out. It proclaims the fullness of life, leaving no person out. It calls all to repent and to believe in God the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, the source of all life and salvation. Maybe you have been Catholic your entire life. Maybe you are just beginning to explore the Catholic Faith. Wherever you are in your journey, you will be profoundly moved by the beauty and the richness of the Catholic Church. Join us as Marcelinho D'Ambrosio and Andrew Swafford presents and explains essential teachings of the Catholic Faith in a readable, approachable way.

This 10 week lesson we will discover

- * What Catholics truly believe
- * Who Catholics are and how we are called to live
- * The blessings of creation, redemption and newness of life in the Holy Spirit
- * The profound gift of the sacraments, especially the Holy Eucharist, the source and summit of our Faith
- * How to imitate Christ through prayer, and through personal conversion, and through love for others
- * And More!

If you are interested in exploring your Faith, contact Grace Mc Nair at grace.mcnair@gmail.com as soon as possible so she can get you to order your books. We will begin this series on Tuesday, February 7 at 10 AM in the Parish Center.

Jesus instructed St. Faustina to spread the message of His endless mercy and forgiveness to those who seek it. Rooted in this message is trust: trust that Jesus loves us, desires to heal our souls, and is with us. This is an especially important message to expectant mothers. May we prayerfully consider how we are called to help mothers who may be struggling in a particular way. As Christ revealed to St. Faustina: "lay your head on my shoulder, rest and regain your strength. I am always with you." (Diary, no. 848)

Live The Liturgy Inspiration of the Week

The heart with which we offer our good deeds matters as much as the deeds themselves. For Christ, the law is more than a code of conduct. It's a mindset.

Saint of the week

Blessed James Miller, the second ever U.S.-born martyr, served as a missionary and educator to the poorest of the poor in Nicaragua and Guatemala. Shot to death in front of his students in 1982, his legacy of love lives on today through the many schools he started.

Prayer

Official Prayer for the Intercession of Blessed Brother James Miller, FSC

O Blessed Brother James Miller, you heard God's call to become a Brother of the Christian Schools and so became a sign of faith to youth in the United States and in Central America. You placed your life and your trust in Divine Providence and, for spreading the faith, merited the crown of martyrdom. In a world that denies the dignity of the human person, obtain for us from Divine Providence an ever-increasing love of God and our neighbor, especially the poor and oppressed. Obtain for us also the favor we are now asking for [mention request] and the grace and strength to be a witness to Christ's love to all. Amen.

Gospel Meditation

Encourage Deeper Understanding of Scripture

It's often said that the Catholic Church lays heavy rules on her members, rules that can almost seem impossible. Mass every Sunday? No lying ever? Sexual purity all the time? I recently said to some non-Catholic friends that more than fifty adults were baptized at my parish at the Easter Vigil. One responded spontaneously with shock, "Why would anyone do that?" In other words, why would someone willingly place themselves in a system with such demanding and rigorous rules?

Of course, no one in the history of religions is more demanding and rigorous than Jesus himself. In the Sermon on the Mount, he says you have to be holier than pharisees or you're out. He says if you call someone a fool, you go to fiery Gehenna. He says you can't even look at a woman with lust or you're guilty of adultery (which was punishable by death). To top it all off, he says you can't even get divorced and re-married. Doesn't he know these are basically impossible demands? What world is he living in?

The new one, actually. He is the new world. Jesus' words aren't meant to condemn. They are meant to signal something new, a restored humanity. Jesus doesn't just give external laws; he gives us his Holy Spirit to internalize the law through love. He wants to fill us with his love. That's what the Church exists to do. Love demands extraordinary things. The "demands" of the Church only make sense because she is filled with Jesus' love. That wildly demanding love is why we are Catholic.

— Father John Muir

Pope St. John Paul II in 'Evangelium Vitae' applauds the daily heroism of mothers who selflessly devote themselves to their children. A culture that fails to truly value motherhood naturally becomes hostile to the gift of new life. There is a great need for real, tangible assistance for expectant mothers. In a world that often turns it back on mothers who sacrifice so much of themselves, may we the church members, rise to help mothers in need. Thank you to all who participated in the prolife rosary this weekend. Our prayers for LIFE are so important. Remember that we are looking forward to helping our local Pregnancy Center with a baby shower on February 18th-19th. Diapers size 1 to 5, clothing size 3 months- toddler, receiving blankets and accessories are much appreciated.

Prayer Reflection...

Fatherhood is first a spiritual reality, because fatherhood has its origins in God, as Our Father, sending his only Son for the sake of our salvation. Fathers therefore have a special role in 'reliving on earth the very fatherhood of God'. (Familiaris Consortio 25). To their children they must reflect the love of God the Father himself. They are called to show themselves as tender protector, living out the virtues of humility and courage. Especially in difficult circumstances, a father needs encouragement to faithfully accept the role entrusted to him by God to support the mother of his child. Through the intercession of St. Joseph, patron of fathers, may they know their irreplaceable role in the lives of their children, and responsibility they share in welcoming God's gift of new life.

PLEASE REMEMBER THE BABY SHOWER 2/18-2/19

World Day for Consecrated Life

God of all goodness, you have called people to follow you faithfully. Humans have heard that call and many choose to follow your call in varied and faith-filled lives. Some follow your call in private, silent lives as hermits; some choose to follow you with lives lived as virgins and widows; while others choose public lives of vowed men and women as religious brothers and sisters. Abundantly give to these men and women the courage to follow their call as witnesses to your gifts and faith and service to the world.

We ask this in faith through the name of Jesus our Savior. Amen.
